Do You Want to Know What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of MEDICINES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery" the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and out-spoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all harping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Do not beget the "pill habit," but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away $30,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Mabel Page's Murderer Executed.

Charles Louis Tucker was electrocuted at 12:12 this morning in Charlestown, Mass., for the murder of Mabel Page. Three applications of the current were made.

When Tucker arrived in front of the death chair he drew from his trousers pocket a brief statement, which he read. He did not assert his innocence. The statement was, "I hope that God will forgive me for all the wrongs I have ever done in my past life. I forgive everybody who has ever wronged me. I am at peace with my maker. May God have mercy upon my soul."

Tucker then sat down in the chair, and after the guards had adjusted the straps, the warden raised his hand as a signal to the electrician.

After the first application of the electricity, Dr. Joseph McLaughlin, the prison surgeon, made an examination and announced that the pulse was still beating. After the current had been applied a second time, the surgeon detected a movement of the heart, but when the current was applied a third time, Tucker was pronounced dead. This announcement was made at 12:19.

The surgeon stated that Tucker was unconscious from the moment the first shock was sustained.

After baptizing Tucker in the afternoon in the faith of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Thomas W. Bishop, a former pastor of the church at which Tucker was once an attendant, convinced by Tucker's protestations of innocence, made a final appeal to the governor. James H. Vahey, the prisoner's counsel also called upon the governor, and said that the prisoner had, in response to his own appeals for confession, if guilty, repeated his assertions of innocence. Mr. Vahey also showed the governor Tucker's last letter to his counsel, which likewise asserted his innocence.

Mabel Page was murdered at her father's home in Weston on the morning of March 31, 1904. Her body was found several hours later by her aged father. On a near-by table was found a note, supposed to have been written by Miss Page, stating that she had been called to Boston because of the illness of her brother. It later developed that her brother Harold was not ill, and the handwriting on the note and a postal card which was also found in the house, figured in the trial, the government contending that the handwriting as shown on the postal card was identical with specimens of Tucker's handwriting.

The police authorities, about three weeks after the crime, searched Tucker's home. There, in an old coat, they found a broken knife blade, blood-stained and scarred, the scars indicating that an effort had been made to destroy it by means of a file. A stickpin of peculiar design was also found. It was soon learned that Mabel Page had owned a pin similar to that found in Tucker's coat. Tucker was arrested, and indictment for murder in the first degree followed.

Amy Roberts, the servant in the Page house, identified a stick pin—commonly known during the trial as the Canadian pin—as the property of Mabel Page. The mother of the prisoner testified that the pin taken from her house by the State police had been the property of her son for several years, and that she had worn the pin on several occasions.

The defense, however, produced two pins, one, the Page pin, and the other a pin purchased in Canada by the defense. Both were of the same general design, but they differed radically in color. Holding the two pins in his outstretched hand, Attorney Vahey walked up to Mrs Tucker and requested her to pick out her son's pin. With a trembling hand she selected a pin, saying: "That is Louis's." The pale face of the prisoner's attorney indicated only too plainly that Mrs. Tucker had picked out the pin which had recently been purchased.

[Today's dispatches from Boston say that Tucker asserted his innocence to the last.]

Assaulted by a Negro.

A dispatch from Pocomoke City, Md., says that a negro who on Sunday after robbing the home of J. E. Townsend, near Marion station, on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, brutally assaulted Mrs. Robert Barnes and Miss Frances Powell, daughter of Lewis Powell, at Kingston, was captured at Cape Charles City yesterday.

The young women whom the negro attacked were returning from service at the Episcopal Church near Kingston. Mrs. Barnes was pushing a baby carriage containing her child. To reach their home they had to pass through some woods, and when they reached a lonely spot the negro leaped out from behind bushes with a large knife in one hand and a revolver in the other.

He pulled the baby out of the coach and threatened to kill it. The mother pleaded with him to spare the baby, and he, still holding the child, then compelled the women under threats of death, to precede him into a deep thicket, where he assaulted them.

He beat the women when they resisted him, and when a team passed along the road near the thicket he swore he would kill both women and the child if they made an outcry. He forced Miss Powell to take one of the rings he had stolen, declaring he would kill her if she refused.

Before leaving the terrified and nearly unconscious women he told them they need not send anybody after him, as he was not afraid of any white man living.

The negro made his escape to Rehoboth, stole Henry Bridell's horse and buggy standing in front of the Baptist Church during service, drove to Pocomoke City, and there took the early morning train to Cape Charles, where he was arrested, after a struggle, upon telegraphic advices.

A crowd of men from Pocomoke and the surrounding country gathered at Princess Anne yesterday afternoon, ready to lynch the negro if brought there to be jailed.

A message from Cape Charles says the negro refuses to be removed to Maryland without requisition papers from the governor of Virginia.

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 12, 1906.

THE increased purchase of rags in Germany by American industrialists, amounting now to over one million dollars a year, has been calling forth protests from the German paper manufacturers, who ask for an expert duty on rags and cuttings. The rag industry of Germany is the subject of a report received by the bureau of manufactures from Consular Clerk Leute at Kannheim, which is a rag centre, where over 25,000 tons are handled annually. The rag factories there are modern buildings, equipped with electric lights, electric presses, shredding machines, elevators, steam heating, disinfecting rooms, etc. Some difficulty has been experienced lately in getting enough laborers among the German girls and women, so Galicians have been secured who do not understand German, but make good workers. Waste rope is turned into cigarette paper, and all the rags and textile waste, after assortment, is put to some practical use. Even the dust and fuzz is now carefully collected and made into roofing paper.

IT IS now said that there will be no tariff revision at the short session of this Congress next winter. There will be no revision by the Sixtieth Congress, if the stand-patters can help themselves. This is the stand-pat programme as developed yesterday by renewed rumors that the President had it in mind to insist on the passage of a tariff bill before the expiration of this Congress on March 4, 1907. Leading stand-patters in the House declared that even if the President urged revision at next winter's short session, his recommendation would be disregarded. Their idea is that, if there must be a revision, the best time for it would be at a special session following the inauguration in 1909. This puts the thing off to the Sixty-first Congress.

SINCE the publication of the official packing house exposure, with the indorsement of the President, sales of meats and meat products have dropped in both the foreign and domestic markets. In all of the European cities the newspapers have openly urged the public to stop using the American product, and especially those from the Chicago packing houses. Even in Chicago, the home of the beef trust, the stomach has turned against a meat diet, and the decrease in the sale of canned meats and sausages is said to be nearly 50 per cent. Dealers in other cities have had a similar experience, and vegetarianism is on the boom.

ALTHOUGH Kentucky has determined not to return Senator Blackburn, his democratic colleagues have elected him minority leader in the Senate in succession to Senator Gorman. It is a pity that personal ambition, and perhaps skill in conducting a campaign, is to retire Senator Blackburn to private life The democratic Senators are better judges of senatorial capacity and usefulness than the Kentuckians are.

BECAUSE he fished on Sunday and caught a rock bass less than the required length of seven inches, a young Philadelphian was fined $35 and costs yesterday by a Norristown magistrate By the enforcement of the game and fishery laws in the northern States game and fish are perserved, but it is not so in this section and this is the reason for the growing scarcety of both fish and game.

WHAT does the meat trade want? asks the Philadelphia Record: Does it want President, Congress, people and the rest of the world to keep mum for fear of "hurting business," while it goes on year after year selling stuff that ought not be sold? The meat trade's pocket nerve is a tender thing, but otherwise it is tough enough. The meat trade had better clean house and keep it clean.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)
Washington, June 12.

Officials of the State Department and the Department of Commerce and Labor are following closely the new agrarian policy of Germany, which recently induced her to bring to a successful close a number of commercial treaties. It is generally agreed that these commercial or agricultural treaties will exercise a great influence upon the German industries, but whether it will be for the weal or woe of the manufacturing interests throughout the country is a matter of conjecture. Upon request, Consul Ernest L. Harris, of Chemnitz, Germany, has made an investigation into the industrial conditions for the United States government. He points out Germany's extreme good fortune in being able to stop the tide of immigration from her farms to the United States, thus giving her a laboring class to build up her manufacturing industries, even if laborers did leave the country districts. "The time has now come, however," says the Consul in his report, "when the country districts can no longer spare a surplus population for the cities, if the recent policies formulated for the support of the agricultural interests are to be a success. Unless better wages are paid in the country the migration to the cities will continue, thus rendiug abortive the economic policy just adopted." He points out that new conditions will increase the cost of farm produce to city consumers, but will make the country wages higher. He adds: "The introduction of a policy having as its ultimate aim the persuading of any part of the city population back to the country districts would be futile, for the reason that if skilled labor should ever become a drug on the market and a workman stood face to face with the stern necessity of bettering his condition or that of his family he would infinitely prefer to seek his fortune in some new country which would offer him a possible chance of employment in some factory at his trade, or, failing in this, the possibilities of establishing a home and making a living at farming would be incomparably greater than in Germany," Taken all in all the American official seems to believe that Germany's new policy will not meet with the success its authors wish for it, and some would not be surprised to see it collapse in a brief time.

President Roosevelt is somewhat wrathy with his friends in the House for their failure to provide that $25,000 appropriation for traveling expenses. The President is of the unalterable opinion that as chief executive it is his duty at times to travel. He is opposed to accepting courtesies from railroad companies, cannot afford to pay the expenses out of his own pocket, and thinks Congress should provide the money. He says that rich institutions in the vicinity of Washington, who desire his presence, have offered to pay his expenses if he will come, quoting the Carnegie Institution, but it is his desire to visit next year some institutions that cannot afford to bear the expense, naming the universities of Oklahoma, Missouri, and Kansas, and unless the Congress provides the money he may have to forego the pleasure of that visit. He says that the lack of legislation on the subject might tend to favor rich institutions as against the proper ones. He is miffed also because Congress has not provided more suitable quarters for his horses. The stable now provided is unsanitary. He will not keep his own riding horses there. The horses die there. Wyoming, the gift of Wyoming ranchers to the President, died there. The President has threatened that if Congress does not make better provision, he will ask that the stables be closed and that he be given authority to board the horses required for the service.

A strong delegation from California is in Washington working for additional government relief for San Francisco. Visits were made by the delegation today upon President Roosevelt, the ways and means committee of the House and a number of the most prominent and influential individual members of both branches of Congress. Among those that called upon the President were Senator Flint, ex-Gov. Franklin Lane, Judge Morrow, and the Representatives from San Francisco. Two propositions were discussed. The first, which does not require congressional authority to put into force, is for the Secretary of the Treasury to accept city bonds of San Francisco as security for deposits of government money. They would like to have about $13,000,000 of money, and today said they would be glad to turn their city bonds over to the national treasury as security on a 90 per cent. basis. The second proposition, which will require an act of Congress before it can be put into force, contemplates a government loan of about $10,000,000, for the rebuilding of the city. If this plan is adopted the government will loan the money to the clearing house association of the city, and the clearing house will secure itself and the government by mortgages on the property of the individuals who receive the money. Senator Flint, who suggested this scheme, proposed that the loan be made for a period of ten years. The President said he would take the matter up with the Secretary of the Treasury and the financial authorities of Congress and see what could be done.

President Roosevelt received a delegation from St. Joseph, Mo., this morning, who came to tell him that the packinghouses there are all right All these stories of filth and disease in Chicago have hurt the trade of "St. Joe," for, according to their statements, they slaughter 10,000 beeves a day; employ 10,000 work and pay out $10,000,000 a month to the cattlemen of ten nearby States. "We told the President," said Mr. L. T. Golding, who acted as spokesman of the party, "that we came here not as packers or as business men interested in the packinghouse trade, but as representatives of the city of St. Joseph. We know that our packinghouses are clean, healthful and sanitary from top to bottom and end to end. If the charges made against the packinghouses in Chicago are true, the whole outfit ought to be dumped in the lake. But because they are bad up there is no reason why St. Joseph's business should be injured. It is being hurt to some extent, and we want to make it plain to the world that we are not guilty of the crimes laid at Chicago's door. The President told us that he was glad to meet us, that he was pleased to learn that we had such model establishments, and said that he intended in the near future to make public some sort of a list that would separate the good from the bad concerns."

President Roosevelt this morning received a visit from Senator Kittredge of South Dakota who brought with him a very beautifully engraved certificate of membership in the Improved Order of Redmen. The President was made an honorary member of the organization a few weeks ago by the high officials of the Red Men who called at the White House to perform the ceremony. The President is the only man in the world enjoying that distinction. In presenting the certificate to the President, Senator Kittredge conveyed the good will and best wishes of his brother members and the President expressed his thanks.

Senator Martin, who has been spending a few days at "Scottlands," his summer home, has returned to this city.

William Ashburn of Reedville, Va., who, it is supposed, blew out the gas Saturday night in his room at 818 K. street, died this morning at the Emergency Hospital.

The House committee on, agriculture which is endeavoring to put the Beveridge meat inspection amendment into such shape that it will be acceptable to the various interests involved, resumed consideration of the subject this morning, after an all day session yesterday. The more warmly discussed feature—that of the cost of inspection and where it shall be placed, has notyet been reached and will not be until the other features of the bill have been perfected. The committee will not be ready to report to the House until Thursday or Friday.

The new Senator from Maryland, Mr. Whyte, was today assigned to the following committees: Irrigation, library, printing, Canadian relations and District of Columbia.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, June 12.

SENATE.

The Senate today passed a bill giving authority to the President to reappoint to the Naval Acadamy seven midshipmen recently dismissed for hazing. In replying to the criticism of Mr. Scott, who feared the result would be to encourage hazing and bring about more court martials, Mr. Hale explained that the dismissal of the midshipmen was the only punishment possible, although their offences had been but technical hazing.

He said the present bill would not permit the restoration to the academy of any midshipmen who had been guilty of brutal hazing. The intention of the department had been to have the beneficiaries named in the bill but the committee thought this a matter for executive discretion

Senator Foraker has won out in his statehood fight. In the Senate today, Senator Beveridge moved to withdraw the report of the conference committee on the statehood bill upon which Mr. Foraker, with a majority of the Senate at his back, was preparing to make a fight. The motion was carried.

The conferences of the House and Senate, under an agreement that has been reached, will now change the bill so as to meet Foraker's views. Oklahoma and Indian Territory are to be admitted jointly. On November sixth, the people of Arizona and New Mexico are to vote separately on the question of whether these territories shall be joined as one State, and at the same time vote for delegates to a constitutional convention. If a majority in either territory votes against union the constitutional convention is not to meet.

HOUSE.

Mr. Dalzell, immediately after the reading of the journal, presented a rule providing that the railroad rate bill be again sent to conference as requested by the Senate. On his demand for the previous question, which by a rising vote was sustained, 150 to 81, Mr. Williams demanded a roll-call, that a record vote might be had. It was ordered.

News of the Day.

State Senator Thomas Jefferson died in Dover, Del., today.

The annual convention of the Travelers' Protective Association is in session at Buffalo. Norfolk, Va., is making a strong bid for the convention next year.

Dr. Walter R. Gillette and Robert A. Granniss, former officials of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, were indicted on charges of forgery and held in bail of $10,000 and $5,000 respectively in New York yesterday.

The democratic convention of the 8th congressional district in session today at Statesville, N. C., nominated Richard N. Hackett, of Wilkes county, for Congress in opposition to the present republican, Congressman Blackburn.

Senator Aldrich, the leader of the republicans, was quoted last night by one of his colleagues in the Senate as expressing the belief that Congress could clear up all the work still before it in time to adjourn by the end of this month.

While Senator Daniel was a guest of the Southern Club, in Philadelphia, Saturday night, he said: "If Bryan fights the battles he finds before him he will not only be nominated, but he will certainly be elected President of the United States."

The Senate yesterday adopted the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill, although a number of senators attacked it as containing graft. The Senate passed the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, carrying an aggregate appropriation of $3,154,594. After concluding District business the House resumed consideration of the sundry civil bill, completing 118 pages of that budget.

A dispatch from Paris says the police of Compeigne where John D. Rockefeller is now visiting, his daughter, Mrs. Strong, are afraid that an attempt may be made by anarchists to kill the standard oil magnate.

Virginia News.

The Upperville Colt and Horse Club begins its meeting on Thursday, June 14, at Grafton, near Upperville.

A marriage licenses was issued in Washington yesterday to Spencer M. Cooper and Hattie Hogan, both of Quantico, General Thomas L. Rosser was taken suddenly ill in Charlottesville yesterday and had to be taken to his home, "Rugby," in a carriage.

The Corporation Commission.

The corporation commission hearing of the freight-rate matter was resumed in Richmond yesterday with H. H. Plant, comptroller of the Southern Railway, on the stand, Mr. Thomas, the Southern counsel, so questioned his witness as to develop the relative cost between through and local freight traffic. He stated that through traffic showed 500 per cent. efficiency over the local trains. In regard to passenger traffic, it was learned that the earnings from mail and express were credited to that branch of the business.

In conclusion Mr. Plant declared that the expenses for passenger traffic were greater than the receipts. Mr. Plant read from a prepared paper a list of the bonds, mortgages and obligations of the system, showing the totals to be $192,000,000, of which $88,500,000 is apportionable to Virginia.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE EASTERN STATE HOSPITAL.

The Eastern State Hospital investigation is drawing to a close. The committee announced yesterday that it had called its last witness, and Dr. Foster, the superintendent, who is in the position of a man on trial, was called to the stand to testify in his own behalf. It is thought that the committee will adjourn on Wednesday evening, after having been in actual session for 31 days, at an expense to the State of something like $7,000. The official report will not be written until the stenographer has been given ample time in which to translate the record.

Yesterday's session began with the testimony of J. L. Glenn, an attendant, who had been discharged for drunkenness who asserted that his dismissal was due to the fact that he had not voted the straight democratic ticket. On cross-examination, he stated that he had been twice discharged for drunkenness and once suspended for the same cause. He named a number of attendants who, he said, were drunkards.

Dr. Foster was put on the stand immediately after the dinner hour. Dr. Williams, he said, had several times used the burning by caustic treatment with his knowledge and consent. He said that the treatment was favored by the best medical authorities. He read a paper showing the improvement that had been made at the asylum since he has been superintendent. He stated that he had time and again asked for needed improvements at the hands of the legislature and had been refused.

"I and the superintendents of the other white hospitals," he said, "have gone before the legislature and said that it was a crying shame and a blot on Virginia that the negro insane fared better than the white." He resented bitterly the statements that have been made that the patients do not receive an abundance of food.

Dr. Foster acknowledged that he had not paid daily visits to the various wards of the institution, and said that he did not intend to do so, as it was a physical impossibility with his other arduous duties. He said that the committee that drafted the rules had not intended that such daily visits should be made. He said that he had insisted upon this when the rules were adopted. "Mr. Clowes was present and knew this," he said. "He agreed, but asked that the rule be kept in the book. I see now that he did this for ulterior motives."

COURT OF APPEALS.

Upon the opening of the Court of Appeal at Wytheville, yesterday, Judge Keith, who had been absent, took his place upon the bench. The proceedings were as follows:

Crockett, administrator, vs, Etter, was argued and submitted.

Fayette National Bank vs. Summers, argued and submitted.

Next cases to be called:

Kent vs. Kent, International Harvester Company vs. Smith and Battershall vs. Roberts.

In Gorman Wright Company vs. Wright, from the circuit court of the city of Richmond, an appeal was refused.

Addicks Again Defeated.

Col. Henry A Dupont, of Wilmington, Del., last night defeated J. Edward Addicks in the contest for the vacant seat from Delaware in the United States Senate. Mr. Dupont was selected to fill the vacancy by a caucus of the republican members of the legislature, which was in session several hours.

The action of the caucus ends a contest that has continued for eleven years, during which time Addicks was the candidate of the union republicans for United States Senate. The legislature will meet today in special session and each house will take a separate vote for United States Senator, and the two houses will meet jointly on Wednesday to verify the vote. Dupont's election is conceded by the Addicks following.

There was a full attendance of members of both wings of the republicans at the caucus last night. There was a long discussion and when the vote was finally taken it stood: Dupont 20, Addicks 10, H. H. Ward, 1. Following the announcement of the vote, Senator Connor, an Addicks supporter, made a motion that Dupont's selection be made unanimous, which was adopted.

The democratic members of the legislature have criticised Gov. Lea for calling an extra session of the legislature to elect a Senator, and they have declared they will take no part in the voting.

Stopped a Suicide.

"Is suicide a sin?" asked Pastor Starr from his pulpit in Norfolk Sunday. "It is," answered in their hearts a man and a woman who had planned thus to end their lives, and who probably would have done so. While not disclosing their names, Dr. Starr told their story yesterday. While preaching he little knew that there sat before him at least two people—a man and a woman of mature years—who had been contemplating suicide; but such was the case, for they saw him yesterday morning and talked with him on the subject, relating to him that it had been their intention to endeavor to get out of their troubles by taking their own lives. To the delight of the clergyman, they both told him that, after listening to his discussion of the subject, they had concluded to take a different view of the situation.

In Danger of Lynching.

Charles Kinslow, a negro, charged with attempting a criminal assault on Mrs. Harry A. Boudon, a prominent society woman of Aldana, near Chester, Pa., is in danger of lynching, and could not be removed from jail for a hearing last night. Two thousand men stormed the jail and attempted to take the negro and lynch him. The jail door was broken, but a squad of police prevented the mob from entering. Kinslow attempted to assault Mrs. Boudon near her home. Her cries were heard by a number of men, who rescued her and gave chase and captured the negro. He was given into the custody of the police. The police believe they will be able to prevent a lynching without the assistance of the militia, who are held in readiness to respond to a riot call.

New Russian Loan.

Birmingham, Eng., June 12.—The Post today says that the proposal has been discussed to raise a new Russian loan, amounting to 200,000,000 roubles, in England. Half the sum is to be devoted to the construction of Russian warships which will be built in England. The arrangement will probably succeed, owing to the improvement in the Anglo-Russian relations.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Delaware Senatorship.

Dover, Del., June 12.—"I will be a candidate for the United States Senate at the next regular session of the Delaware legislature," said J. Edward Addicks. The gas man had received from his devoted friends a report of the caucus which, after an evening of feverish suspense, had practically nominated Col. Henry A. Dupont at a single ballot by an overwhelming majority and with perfect harmony. Addicks was completely whipped. He and his men had claimed unqualifiedly that the old war horse would carry the caucus. His defeat was received by himself and his friends with smiles and jollity. They acted as if it was a part of a programme. On the other hand Senator J. Frank Allee and his right hand man, Caleb R Layton, now at Washington, Auditor of the State department, displayed no elation over Dupont's nomination, although they had struggled separately to insure his supremacy in the caucus. Addicks was asked for an outline of his future conduct in Delaware senatorial policy. For years he has confined himself to prepared statements, but this morning, he risked an interview. "I will be elected Junior United States Senator from Delaware in January, 1907," he said. "Delaware has returned to the caucus rule for electing candidates for the Senate. That is the most important fact in the recent situation. The caucus which will precede the election of a Senator in 1907 will nominate me. Col. Dupont and I reached an agreement some time since by which we were to stand for the nomination before this caucus. The successful man was to receive the absolute support of the other in the separate joint ballot of the legislature. The defeated man was to receive the support of the other in 1907. I fully acquiesce in the will of the caucus. My friends will, of course, help elect Colonel Dupont. Col. Dupont is an ardent republican, and an able man. Had I been selected as the caucus nominee, Col. Dupont's friends would have done the same for me. In 1907 I will receive the undivided support of Senator Dupont's friends and will carry the caucus without opposition. Senatorial warfare in Delaware is at an end The resumption of the caucus rule will prevent another dead-lock in this State." Mr. Addicks was asked what would become of Senator J. Frank Allee under the operation of the Dupont-Addicks entente cordiale, "Oh, Allee is eliminated on every contingency," he answered.

Senator Allee today received the following message from President Roosevelt:

White House, Washington, June 12. Hon. J. Frank Allee, Dover Del.

Telegram received. I am much pleased at the good news you send, and heartily congratulate you upon the result which you have been so instrumental in bringing about, and I congratulate even more heartily the republicans of Delaware.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT"

Senator Allee, chairman of the republican State committee, and former Senator L. H. Ball, chairman of the regular republican State committee, have signed a call announcing that a republican State convention will shortly be called for the reorganization of the party in the State.

Col. Henry A. Dupont was at 11:55 o'clock elected United States Senator from Delaware by twenty-eight votes. The Senate and House met in separate session. The vote will be ratified in joint session tomorrow. The total vote in the two houses was Dupont, 28; Addicks, 1; blank, 18.

By a personal friend and legal adviser of the Dupont family a denial was made today of any pact between Col. Henry A. Dupont and J. Edward Addicks for the election of the latter as the next Senator from Delaware, the existence of such a pact being alleged by Addicks.

Disastrous Fires.

New York, June 12.—More than $300,000 damage was done by a spectacular fire which swept through the plants of the Stuyvesant & Wheelock Piano Companies and Charles Reiger's Sons bank and bar fixture factory in the Bronx this morning. The buildings were grouped together around the lumber yard of the Reiger Company, in the block enclosed by 147th and 148 streets, Brook and Bergen avenues. It looked at one time as though the entire block would be wiped out. Surrounding the burned buildings are a number of tenement houses and panic reigned among the occupants, but the police and firemen managed to get all of them to the street, without any one being seriously injured.

Omaha, Neb., June 12.—Fire early this morning destroyed the building containing the oleo department of the Armour & Co. packing house in South Omaha. The loss is estimated at $30,000. About half an hour after the firemen arrived, the north wall of the building fell outward instantly killing Cornelius Denny, a member of the Armour & Co. fire department. At one time the flames threatened the destruction of the entire mammoth plant, but the firemen succeeded in saving the surrounding buildings. The origin of the fire has not as yet been determined.

Rochester, N. Y, June 12.—Fire supposed to have been started by thieves who were burglarizing the Gaylord general store in the village of Sodus, Wayne county, practically wiped out the eastern business section of the village at 2:30 o'clock this morning. Rochester was appealed to for assistance, but before any of the local apparatus could be dispatched word was received that the flames were under control. Miss Susie Dubois, living near the building in which the fire started, saw two men carrying suit cases run away from the Gaylord store just before 2:30 o'clock this morning, and a moment later flames burst from the first story of the building. A high wind swept the flames in both directions and threatened the Miners' Hospital. By the time the local fire fighters had gained the upper hand more than a dozen buildings had been destroyed at a total loss of upwards of $100,000.

A Western Wonder

There's a Hill at Bowie, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 180. He says: "I suffered with a terrible cough, and doctors gave me up to die of Consumption. I was reduced to 90 pounds, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Now, after taking 12 bottles, I have more than doubled in weight and am completely cured." Only sure Cough and Cold cure. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons', Druggists. 50c and $1.00. Endeavoring to Prevent Lynching.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., June 12.—Governor Swanson this evening wired the sheriff and Commonwealth's Attorney of Northampton county to use every endeavor to arrest and punish to the full extent of the law an invading mob from Maryland who are after William Lee, the negro accused of assaulting two white women on Sunday last at Pocomoke, and who is now in jail at Eastville.

The Adjutant General wired the Senor militia officer at Norfolk to proceed to Eastville immediately with five companies of the Seventy-first regiment and urge the importance of immediate action.

A telegram from Norfolk says that fifty men left there at 3 o'clock on a special tugboat and the other troops will go latter.

It is feared, however, that the mob, which is accompanied by Lee's two victims, will get the prisoner before the sheriff and militia arrive.

Examination of Railroad Officials.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., June 12.—Mr. Thom completed direct examination of A. H. Plant, comptroller of the Southern Railway, at noon and Mr. Braxton took the witness on cross examination. He will probably hold him several days. The Southern will not complete its case this week. Attorney General Anderson gave out an important opinion today declaring that all laws passed by the legislature in 1906 except appropriation bills and emergency acts take effect June 13.

Reign of Terror in Warsaw.

Warsaw, Poland, June 12.—The prevalence of disorders and the activity of the revolutionaries are well illustrated in the report of the Warsaw Ambulance Society for the last six months, which has been made public. According to this report, 536 persons were killed or wounded during the period mentioned by bombs, fire arms or daggers in Warsaw. Of these victims of violence 109 were killed instantly and 101 died in various hospitals to which they were taken after being hurt. Of the killed 31 were women. In addition to this great number of murders 110 committed suicide, being driven to the deed by their distress or nervous exhaustion due to the strain under which they had lived for months. The greater number of these outrages are credited to terrorists, and the fact that policemen and detectives comprise the greater number of victims would seem to prove that the murders can be safely laid at the door of some organization which has for its purpose the overthrowing of law and order. In some instances robber gangs were the aggressors in the murders, the victims being persons who had tried to resist the thugs and were shot down. As the result of the depredations of terrorists and robbers a reign of terror practically exists. Policeman and gendarmes dare not try to quell the marauders for fear of being killed, and the higher authorities are too lazy and corrupt to make any effort to protect the lives and property of the citizens, so that there is no guarantee of safety.

The Murder of Mrs. Kinnan.

New York, June 12.—In digging deep into the history and private affairs of Mrs. Alice Kinnan, the young woman who was murdered in the doorway of her Bronx home, the police have unearthed some facts that promise interesting developments. It has been declared that the relations between the murdered woman and her aged mother, Mrs. Stanton, who lived in the old mansion, with her, were not cordial at all times. The most bitter quarrel recently was due to a disagreement between mother and daughter over a fee of $26,000 charged by Burton W. Gibson, lawyer for Mrs. Stanton, for legal services. The differences between the lawyer and Mrs. Stanton were patched up, but Mrs. Kinnan refused to be reconciled to the lawyer, and today it is asserted that she was determined to force Mr. Gibson to restore a part of his fee to the estate. The police admit that Mrs. Stanton's extreme age, nearly 80 years, was all that stood between her and actual arrest. They have taken complete charge of the old Stanton mansion and are firm in their conviction that she knows more about the killing of her daughter than she has thus far disclosed. The police are now agreed that whatever was the motive for the murder, that the assassin was known at the Stanton house.

Shot Woman and Himself.

Baltimore, June 12.—Charles Doom, aged 22 years, of Staunton, Va., shot Mrs. Annie Witz, aged 23, also of Staunton, Va., and then turned the pistol on himself, about 12 o'clock this morning at the house of Ella M. Nelson, 636 Josephine street. Since their arrival here about a month ago, the man had been known under the name of Charles Brown and the woman as Lillian Brown. The man has a bullet under the heart and one in the head, which has fractured the skull. The woman was shot in the right temple. Both are in a precarious condition at the Maryland University Hospital. At an early hour this morning both were conscious, but the physicians in charge could not say whether they would recover. The shooting occurred in the back room on the third floor of the house, and is said to have been the culmination of a quarrel on Sunday night. They had only been in Baltimore about a month, and, according to Miss Nelson, Mrs. Witz had been enticed away from her husband by Doom. The shooting was apparently premeditated, as Doom left several letters which indicated that he fully intended to kill the woman and end his own life.

Guilty of Accepting Rebates.

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—Charged with accepting rebates the four packing cases were today found guilty by a jury in the United States district court here. The cases are these of Armor & Company, W. Swift & Company, Cudahy and Company and Nelson Morris Packing Company. They were charged in indictments returned here last December with accepting from the Burlington Railway concessions on shipments accepting from the Kansas City plants to New York for export. The cases were consolidated for trial purposes. The specific case considered is that charging Cudahy & Company with accepting a rate of 23 cents per hundred pounds on a shipment of lard to New York, for export to Germany, when the legal tariff then on file with the Interstate Commerce Commission was 35 cents.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 12 11 a. m.—The stock market has shown decided improvement since the opening and during the first hour many sharp advances were made. Practically everything traded in joined in an upward movement during the first hour. Arbitrage business was very small.

Jilted Maid Sues Lover.

Waterbury, Conn., June 12.—Jilted at the age of 53, Miss Frances Hayes has brought suit for breach of promise against John J. Miles, who is only 23 years old. Miss Hayes claims $50,000 damages. Young Miles, whose fondness for Miss Hayes had hardly been suspected, blushed like a schoolby when interrogated. He managed to stammer out that he wasn't worrying any, and had hopes that Providence would take care of him.

His engagement to another woman was announced three weeks ago. When it became known to the elderly rival she left Waterbury and spent a few days in a sanitarium trying to forget the past.

Miss Hayes is a modest and frugal seamstress She says Miles was a most ardent sweetheart, and she has a stack of letters almost as high as the second drawer of the sewing machine, all breathing sweet sentiments. It is her belief, and she wishes the world to know it, that Miles would have married her but for the fact that he recently fell heir to an estate and quickly started to look around for a mate of his own tender years.

Accident to Electric Car.

Camden, N. J, June 12.—By the dropping of a motor from its fastening beneath a car of the Public Service Corporation at 9:30 o'clock this morning, the passengers, who were members of the Sunday School of St. Georges M. E. Church, East Side, on their way to Almonesson Park, to enjoy a day in the woods, were thrown into a panic and commenced to leap into the street. Eight carloads of people composed the outing. When the motor dropped it struck the street and rebounded back through the floor of the car. Employees of the New York Shipbuilding Company, in front of which plant the accident occurred, rushed to the assistance of the injured and carried them to neighboring drugstores. None are in a serious condition.

Josephine Terranova Paroled.

New York June 12.—Josephine Terranova was paroled in the custody of her counsel shortly after 11 o'clock this morning by Justice Scott, sitting in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court, on motion of Assistant District Attorney Ely Josephine left the criminal court building in a close carried carriage to avoid the crowd that had congregated to see her. The proceedings connected with the girl's discharge took scarcely half a minute. Judge Palmieri, the girl's counsel, refused to divulge the destination of his client, but said that she would be out of the city within twenty-four hours.

To Visit United States.

Geneva, Switzerland, June 12.—Lieut. Bilhe, author of the book "In a Little Garrison Town," which created a great sensation in German military circles when it made its appearance, is planning to visit the United States during the present year. His purpose is to write a book on American army life and he will gather the material for the volume during his travels. While in America he will travel incognito.

Steamer Floated.

Cape May, N. J., June 12.—The steamer Westernland, which touched bottom on the Shoals at the entrance to Delaware bay, yesterday, while bound from Liverpool for Philadelphia, was floated shortly after midnight, with the assistance of tugs. Later the Westernland proceeded under her town steam up the Delaware river for Philadelphia. Apparently the vessel sustained no serious damage to her hull. The Westernland went aground yesterday morning in a dense fog and as she has over 1,000 souls aboard, comprising passengers and crew, considerable anxiety was manifested for her safety.

"Skidoo" Phone Number.

New Haven, Conn., June 12.—General Andrew H. Ambler has changed his telephone number. The old number was 23, and it wore on the nerves. Night after night call would come. "Is this 23?" "Yes." "Really! Well, skidoo for yours." The end came when some person inquired for Mr. Skidoo. Mrs. Ambler was at the phone, and she spoke her mind. "Oh! Mrs. Skidoo! How are Mr. Skidoo and the little Skidoos. What? No little skidoos? That's curious." So, the number was changed, and no person seems to want it.

Parliamentary Pay Attached.

Vienna, June 12.—One hundred and seventy-two deputies of the new Hungarian parliament have had their parliamentary pay, amounting to $4 daily, attached by the courts on the application of creditors. The attachment in twenty cases was due to gambling debts, thirteen to election expenses and twenty-six deputies left their families without support, and were called upon to pay alimony. The rest were sued on promissory notes.

The University.

The committee of the faculty of the University of Virginia appointed to suggest and prepare some form of testimonial to Hon. Charles Pinckney Jones, of Monterey, in recognition of his faithful services as rector, selected a handsome loving cup, and yesterday forwarded the gift to Mr. Jones. Accompaning the gift was an engrossed letter of thanks for his long and able service.

Last night the board of visitors of the university elected three professors, as follows; Dr. Charles H. Bunting, of Johns Hopkins University, to the chair of pathology; Dr. Reid Hunt, of the hygienic laboratory, United States Health and Marine Hospital Service, Washington, to the chair of physiology; Llewellyn C. Hoxton, of Johns Hopkins University, to the chair of adjunct professor of physics.

The Late Captain Meade.

In the death of Capt. David Meade, of "Renvenue," near White Post, on Wednesday last, the county of Clarke has lost one of its most valued citizens. Capt. Meade was an old Virginia gentleman of the Revolutionary stock, his grandfather, Col. Richard Kidder Meade, having been aid-de-camp to General Washington during the whole of the Revolutionary war. A man of modest and unassuming manners, devoted to friends and home, given to hospitality, always genial, a friend to the needy and an example of a Christian gentleman, Captain Meade took a deep interest in the church and was the main-spring in building "Meade Memorial" church (in memory of Bishop Meade) at White Post, where an Episcopal Church had been much needed for many years and used his own means principally in building an adjoining hall. He was no politician, but took much interest in the politics of the country. Some years since he was induced to become a candidate to represent the counties of Warren and Clarke in the State Legislature and was elected by the largest majority ever cast for a legislator. He was also devoted to agriculture and stock raising of all kinds and was an exceptionally fine farmer. Captain Meade leaves a widow and many friends to mourn his loss. D. G. M.

Row Among Neighbors.

Friction which had existed for some time between the Johnsons and Carters, two colored families living on north Alfred street, culminated late yesterday evening in a serious conflict, during which Harry Carter was beaten unmercifully on the head by Henry Johnson. The belligerents were lined up evenly, there being three on each side, Carter and his mother and sister and Johnson and his wife and daughter. According to the statement of the Carter faction, Johnson was the aggressor, and he, it was said, discharged a pistol, the ball from which grazed the hand of Carter's sister. It was also averred that one of the female members of the Johnson party used a clothes prop with effect upon the head of Harry Carter, while Henry Johnson wielded a gun barrel. The Johnsons in their statement testified that Harry Carter drew a pistol and that Henry Johnson disarmed him and was compelled to use the weapon upon the head of his adversary for self-protection; also that Carter, before being relieved of the pistol, discharged it at Johnson and the ball grazed his head. Officers Lyles, Sherwood and Bell placed the combatants under arrest and conducted them to the station house in a cab. They were brought before Justice Moore in the Police Court this morning, when Mr. Eugene Taylor appeared as counsel for the Carters. Johnson was fined $25 and the others dimissed. Dr. Warfield rendered surgical assistance to Harry Carter, whose head had been seriously cut during the fight.

Fireproofing Companies to Combine.

The American Asbestos Company of New York and the Marsden fireproof materials concern of Philadelphia are to be taken over by the American Asbestos and Fireproofing Company, which has just been incorporated in Virginia, with capitalization of $16,500,000. The company will own 8,000 acres of asbestos and mica lands in Franklin and Bedford counties, Pa., a mill at Bedford City, Va., having a capacity of 100 tons of fibrized asbestos a day, and the Warsden plant in Manayunk, having a capacity at present of 200 tons of fireproof building material a day. The company also owns the Marsden patents on a process which, it is claimed, combine asbestic material and asbestos into a "plastic material that is fireproof, germ proof, vermine proof and earthquake proof." This product, it is asserted, can be manufactured out of mineral materials heretofore regarded as worthless.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

In the Corporation Court yesterday evening in the suit of Mary A. Burroughs versus the Knights of Columbus the jury returned a verdict for $1,000, the face value of a policy in the defendant order, under which the plaintiff is the beneficiary, with interest from January 22, 1905, to date. Attorneys for the defendant order noted exceptions and were allowed ninety days to file a bill, Messrs. Wm. B. Riley, of Washington, and S. G. Brent, of Alexandria, represented the defendant order, and Messrs. John M. Johnson and Leo P. Harlow appeared for the plaintiff.

Today—Com. vs. James Mudd, indicted for grand larceny; prisoner pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail.

At 3:30 o'clock this evening the grand jury, which is investigating the Curtis murder case, was still out.

Episcopal High School.

Since 1903 there has been no change in the corps of instructors at the Episcopal High School, an incident without precedent in its history. This happy state of things now ends in the withdrawal, greatly to the regret of the Principal, of three masters. Mr. Fontaine, as already mentioned, accepts for next session a position in the Washington D. C.; School for Boys, and Messrs. Faulkner and Nelson resume their studies at the University. The former is succeeded by Mr. Francis E. Carter, of Richmond, a graduate of the school in 1902 and ever since an academic student at the University. The places of the other gentlemen are taken by Arthur P. Gray, jr., B. A., of Amherst, and G. C. Shackelford, M. A., of Albemarle, both University men and teachers of experience. —[E. H. S. Chronicle.

Lyceum's Excursion.

Those who enjoy a genuine family excursion should not fail to patronize that of the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum to River View to be given next Thursday. Practically all arrangements have been completed and the sale of tickets up to the present time is very gratifying. River View, with its numerous attractions, is one of the most ideal spots on the beautiful Potomac to spend a day's outing. For those who do not dance there is an ample sufficiency of other attractions to warrant anything but a dull time.

Fairfax Farmers.

The farmers of upper Fairfax county have organized an association, known as the Fairfax Farmers and Stockbreeders' Association, for the purpose of advancing scientific farming and stockbreeding in that county. Some of the members are Conrad T. Shear, M. H. Middleton, L. E Hutchinson, J. P. Machen, Isaiah Bready, Dr. F. W. Huddleson, Henry Walker, D W. Adams, W. E. Miller. The president is W. E. Miller.

Cool Wave.

A cool wave spread over this city and vicinity last night, and before morning the temperature had fallen to a point bordering on the chilly. The bracing air is the aftermath of the severe hail, wind and rain storms which have prevailed over a large area during the past few days.

The open-air stereopticon exhibition which was to have been given last Saturday night in front of the Opera House and which was postponed on account of the rain, will take place next Saturday night.

Personal.

Mrs. Sallie Y. McDaniel has relinquished her position as principal of Lee School and Miss Bessie King has been put in charge of Lee school for the remainder of the session.

Mr. Willis Goodrich is very sick at his home on Duke street.

Dr. George C. Bicknell, of Fairfax county, has located at Pisgah and will practice medicine in Charles county, Md.

Miss Jessie Martin, of this city, and Conrad Phillip Heins, of Lynchburg, were married at the home of the bride on north St. Asaph street last evening. The Rev. W. F. Fisher, of the First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Heins left on a wedding tour.

Mrs. A. Morris and Mrs. J. A. Morris, of Baltimore, are visiting Mr. M. Morris in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Swan have moved to their new house on north Washington street.

At the closing exercises of Richmond Academy, a few days ago, Mr. Prince, dean of the school, announced that Master Henry Marbury Taylor had won the academy scholarship. This was Master Taylor's second winning of the scholarship. Master Taylor was also awarded the principal's mathematics prize. Master Taylor is a son of Mr. Warren P. Taylor, of Richmond, and a grandson of the late W. H. Marbury, of this city, and has many friends and relatives living here.

Police Court.

[Justice W. A. Moore presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Geo. Williams, alias Johnson, colored, arrested by Officers Jones and Bell charged with the larceny of a pistol, had his case continued.

Harry, Emily and Susan Carter, colored, arrested by Officers Lyles, Sherwood and Bell charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, had their case continued.

Henry Johnson, colored, arrested by the same officers charged with a similar offense, was fined $25. Rosa and Martha Johnson, charged with being participants, were dismissed.

Charles Jackson, arrested by Officers Garvey and Beach charged with assaulting Ida Fuller, was fined $5.

Nute McIntyre, arrested by Officer Jones charged with trespass, was fined $5.

Cobin Neal, charged with beating Allen Carter, was dismissed

Trump Shirley, charged with abusive language toward Cobin Neal, was fined $2 50.

The Election.

The election today has been one of the quietest ever held in this city. The regular democratic nominees for the City Council had no opposition save in the Fourth ward, where Mr. Frank Evans was a candidate for the Common Council. The barrooms were supposed to be closed from sunset yesterday evening and, according to law, are not allowed to reopen until sunrise tomorrow morning. The number of votes cast in the different wards up to 4 o'clock this afternoon was as follows:

First ward	45
Second ward	65
Third ward	25
Fourth ward	62
Total	197

The polls were opened at 4:33 this morning and will close at 7:26 this evening.

Colored Clerk.

It is understood that Lawrence Arnold, colored, will be appointed a substitute clerk in the city postoffice. Arnold, it appears, who had passed the civil service examination, was the only man on the eligible list and his name was ordered to be sent to the department for appointment, which, however, has not yet been officially made.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The City Council meets tonight.

During the storm last Saturday evening a telephone pole fell against a house on south Royal street.

Several wires of the electric railway at the intersection of King and Royal streets fell this morning. They were soon replaced.

A marriage license was issued in Rockville, Md., yesterday to Ishmael Goings, of this city, and Miss Mabel E. Tinsman, of Fairfax county.

The 17th Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., will hold their regular monthly meeting tomorrow morning, at 10:30 o'clock at Confederate Veterans Hall.

In Washington yesterday Judge Clabaugh granted a divorce to Susan H Windsor, from Richard S. Windsor, jr., giving her the right to resume her maiden name, Susan T. Hunter, of King George county.

Fannie Lomax, colored, who claimed to have been nearly 108 years old, died yesterday at her home near the Virginia end of the Aqueduct Bridge. She was a native of Virginia and was known as "Aunt Fannie."

The hail and rain storm of last Saturday evening caused considerable damage at the alms house, many window panes having been broken by the hail, while trees were uprooted and the growing crops almost ruined.

Death of Edwin B. Hay.

Col. Edwin B. Hay died in Washington at 9:20 o'clock last night after a short illness. The deceased was in the 57th year of his age. He is survived by a wife, two sons, Edwin B, jr., and Paul F., and one daughter, Julia F. D, all of whom were with him in his last hours.

The malady resulting in the death of Col Hay was diagnosed by the physicians as acute indigestion, which attacked him about a week ago.

The deceased went to Washington in 1850 from Norfolk, Va., where he was born in 1849, and during the civil war lived in Alexandria where he attended school. Later he was a pupil in institutions of learning in Washington, and in 1874 he graduated from the law department, and was admitted to the bar of the District of Columbia immediately after receiving his degree. He had been a practicing attorney in Washington since that time, his practice being before the government departments, Court of Claims Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, and the Supreme Court of the United States. Besides his attainments in his profession of law, Col. Hay became interested in the art of chirography. He was a skilled penman. This art led him into the comparison of handwriting, which gave him a national reputation as an expert. Having been nearly thirty-five years engaged in this work, he was called the "dean of the profession." In active business, outside of his profession, he was the organizer and promoter of a number of industrial companies. He had also done considerable literary and newspaper work, and was a prominent member of several social clubs. In the Masonic fraternity he was a past eminent commander of Columbia Commandery, No. 2, Knights Templar; past high priest of Mount Vernon Chapter, No. 2, R. A. M.; past master of Pentalpha Lodge, No. 15, F. A. A. M.; an officer in Almas Temple, Mystic Shrine, and also a Scottish Rite Mason, as well as a member of the Eastern Star. As an Odd Fellow, he was past grand of Beacon Lodge, a member of the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia, and a member of the Encampment and Uniform Rank. He was also a member of Oriental Council of the Royal Arcanum and the Phi Kappa Psi College Fraternity. His active affiliation with the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks made him known in every city of the country, as for three administrations he served as the grand exalted ruler of the whole order, having been elected at Louisville, Ky., in 1901 by acclamation. At the time of his death he was an active member of Washington Lodge, No. 15, and of the Grand Lodge of the order. For thirty years Col. Hay was a vestryman of St Paul's Episcopal Church. In politics he was a democrat and was one of the delegates from the District of Columbia to the St. Louis convention. He was a member of the Board of Trade and the Business Men's Association.

New Laws in Force June 14

Attorney General Anderson has decided that unless otherwise specified in the bill, all acts passed by the recent legislature will go into effection on June 14th. Many were under the impression that the new laws would become effective June 13th, but Major Anderson's opinion in the matter will be accepted as authoritative.

In this connection, the possessors of automobiles should be reminded of the fact that the law concerning these malodorous vehicles becomes effective on the date mentioned.

The new statute, among other things, requires that every owner shall take out a certificate of registration, which is a polite way of saying that the commonwealth wants $2 from all such owners. The provision of the law requiring the driver of an automobile to stop his machine when approaching a frightened horse, and also to get out and assist the driver of the team to quiet his horse, is causing a good deal of criticism.

The automobile law as a whole is calculated to deter touring in Virginia, which recently has grown to a large extent.

Fight to See Bride.

Five thousand hysterical, struggling women, some of them bearing helpless babies in their arms, pressed around the doors of Grace Church in New York yesterday and fought with the police in their efforts to see Miss Cynthia Burke-Roche marry Arthur S. Burden. Not since the Duke of Roxburghe wedded Miss May Goelet has the police department been obliged to handle such a mob of frantic women. Many of the women fainted. One, clinging tightly to a wailing infant, fell beneath the feet of the excited throng, and was badly trampled before she was dragged to safety. Up and down Broadway, on both sides from Seventh to Fourteenth street, for hours before the time for the wedding, the women struggled and fretted and loudly screamed at one another under the hot sun.

The Statehood Bill.

The Carter compromise on the statehood bill was agreed upon yesterday by republican leaders of the Senate and House. Nothing now stands in the way of the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as a state, and a choice by Arizona and New Mexico as to whether they desire to come in as another state. It is expected that the pending conference reports will be recommitted or withdrawn when it comes up today and an amended report returned to both houses embodying the compromise. In this way the discussion of a question that has been before Congress almost continuously for six years will be ended.

Alleged Confession.

A special from Winchester, Ky., reports that Curtis Jett, now in the Cynthiana jail, awaiting his second trial on a charge of assassinating James Cockrill, in Jackson, Ky., three years ago, has made a full confession, telling of the assassinations of Dr. B. N. Cox, James Cockrill and James B. Marcum. Among other things Jett is said to have confirmed the statement of B. J. Ewen, the star witness in the Marcum case, who, he said, told the truth in the trials from the beginning to end. Jett is also said to have declared that Thomas White, who was charged with complicity in the assassination of Marcum, admitted that the testimony of a plot to kill Marcum was true.

FINANCIAL.

WHEN YOU DEPOSIT YOUR MONEY WITH THIS CORPORATION.

Money out of Bank is subject to many risks. The man who has the reputation of keeping money in his pocket or hiding it about his home not only endangers his own life, but also the lives of his family. Money in a good bank is safe not only from theft or accident, but it is safe from the temptation to spend. We pay 3 PER CENT. interest, compounded semi-annually on all amounts from ONE DOLLAR upwards in our SAVINGS DEPARTMENT. The interest is added to the account each six months, when it also begins to draw interest at the same rate. We endeavor to extend to our patrons every accommodation consistent with sound banking and solicit both SMALL AND LARGE accounts. Why not open an account with us today?

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS!

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Alexandria, Va., June 8, 1906.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the Dog or Canine species should come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring Dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3 or $5.
JUNE TWENTY-FIFTH, 1906,

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two Dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such Dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

The police officers will be required to report all violations of this law.

In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.

FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

The following is a copy of Section 54 of the license law. "On every dog, regardless of sex, one dollar and fifty cents."

Fraudulent Sweetbreads.

"A true sweetbread is perhaps the most healthy meat that can be eaten," said a doctor, "but you are never able to get it. The sweetbread proper is the pancreas, which is one of the most effective agents in promoting digestion, but the sweetbread of trade is usually obtained from the throats of cattle and is what is called the thyroid gland. This gland rests against the windpipe, and, while its texture is similar to that of the real sweetbread, it has not the same beneficial qualities. But some butchers, in order to make money, pass off the salivary gland, that which furnishes the saliva, located in the cheeks, for a sweetbread. This is the most inferior substitute of all. The pancreas, or real sweetbread, is a most dainty morsel. It is of triangular form, while the sweetbreads obtained from the throat are of an oval form. But what is the use of making people dissatisfied? They have been eating thyroid and salivary glands for sweetbreads for years and have been satisfied. But then they have never tasted the real thing."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Money Value of St. Louis.

When Louis IX., the saint, surrendered with his whole forces to the Saracens at Mansura on the 5th of April, 1250, 1,000,000 golden bezants—equal to half that number of the livres of the day—were demanded for his freedom. But the Moslems came down to 800,000 bezants, and in the end by surrendering Damietta Louis got off for 100,000 marks—equal, roughly, to over £1,000,000 of today. These golden bezants contained about 30 shillings' worth of our gold, but to go to market with would buy then as much probably as 7½ sovereigns now would. Were the scorner allowed to break forth here he would probably tell how this high priced and saintly carcass was treated by his people when Louis died at the siege of Tunis, twenty years later. Being hard up for embalmers, they had, according to the journal of Aubery, to quarter and boil him down in separate caldrons and so sent but his whited skeleton to France.—London Chronicle.

The People of Great Britain.

Ethnologically Great Britain is a mixture of many races, resulting from a succession of invasions. When the Romans invaded Britain the inhabitants were Celtic, mixed with an earlier Euskarian non-Aryan element. They continued to be mainly so until the fifth and sixth centuries, when the level parts of the country were overrun by German tribes. Then followed invasions by the Danes and other Scandinavian tribes and lastly the Norman conquest. The inhabitants of England and the lowlands of Scotland, therefore, sprang from an amalgamation of the original Celtic with German and Scandinavian blood. Wales and the highlands of Scotland are still inhabited by descendants of the ancient Celtic tribes. The people of Ireland also are of Celtic origin, although there is an admixture of many other races.

Costliest Building in the Country.

Which is the costliest building in America? Would you answer offhand the New York state capitol at Albany? Hardly. Your thoughts would turn more likely to the national capitol at Washington or to the Congressional library. But the New York state capitol cost more than the national capitol and the library of congress together. The Empire State capitol cost $24,000,000, while the one at Washington, two acres larger, cost only $12,000,000 and the Congressional library only $7,000,000. Our Empire State capitol cost as much as the nation paid for all Florida and the Philippines combined. —Gilson Willets in Leslie's Weekly.

The Art of Forgetting.

I have heard men and women say, "I could be happy now if I could only forget the past." Be kind to yourself and "forget it." Do not try to do so in a labored, strenuous way, but gently suggest to yourself a dozen times a day if necessary that you are happy in the "eternal now" and not burdened down with disagreeable thoughts of the past. In learning the "art of forgetting" you will form the wholesome habit of remembering things worth knowing and thereby bring harmony, peace and contentment into your life.—M. J. Lorimer in Suggestion.

Followed Instructions.

A lady going from home for the day locked everything up carefully and for the grocer's benefit left a card on the back door.

"All out. Don't leave anything," it read.

On her return she found her house ransacked and all her choicest possessions gone. To the card on the door was added, "Thanks. We haven't left much."

Had to Creep.

"Why do you say 'A blush crept over the face of the fair plaintiff?'" asks the editor.

"Because," explains the society editor, "there was so much powder on her face the blush had to creep or else it would raise too much dust!"

A Good Rule.

When thou wishest to give thyself delight think of the excellencies of those who live with thee. For instance, of the energy of one, the modesty of another, the liberal kindness of a third. —Marcus Aurelius.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work for your stomach, digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

If Tennis Balls Were Eggs How Careful We Would Be!

Hundreds of families go along every day exercising little or no care in the selection of their household supplies when they ought to be CAREFUL about the quality of goods; CAREFUL to see that the goods are perfect; CAREFUL that the price is not too high; CAREFUL that everything is as represented; CAREFUL that prices are not overstated.

There is one way of getting rid of this care and that is by dumping it all on us. We exercise such care in buying goods ourselves that even Injurious to the Memory.

Besides inattentive reading there are other things injurious to memory. One is the habit of skimming over newspapers, all in a confused jumble, never to be thought of again, thus diligently cultivating a habit of careless reading hard to break, says Home Chat. Another is the reading of trashy novels. Nothing is so fatal to reading with profit as the habit of running through story after story and forgetting them as soon as read.

Suspicious Directors.

"Our cashier seems to be a frugal chap."

"How so?"

"Always brings his lunch with him and eats it at his desk."

"Hum. That may be frugality and it may be fear of leaving his books. Better have him investigated at once." —Philadelphia Bulletin.

Information.

"What is a domestic animal, mamma?" asked the little boy.

"A domestic animal," replied mamma, with a scornful glance at papa, who was putting on his coat, "is one who does not spend all his time at the club."—Brooklyn Life.

A bill is better receipted, and an old chair is better reseated, and that is the resemblance between them, although neither of 'em looks at all like the other.
